Her oldest brother, George, an employee of the local Postoffice, entered the house just as she screamed and he and a neighbor, J. W. During a brief interview today in Chamber of Commerce President A. G. Dantagast's office, Kreatschman said that, although he had been brought up in the Chesapeake Bay area and had tasted seafood from all over this country, in his opinion "taken as a whole the Gulf area has the best". It was for this reason that the Bay St. Louis area was considered by Kreatschman, formerly Sears, Roebuck official, who together with his wife and son has moved to Sears Avenue, (Corner of Pearl).

The Fast Way

The airlines are having their troubles these days what with plane crashes and all, but it is still true it seems that "if you have time to spare, go by air."

Illustrative of this anti-air slogan was a story a few days ago in a New Orleans newspaper. Seems a Pelicanite had a business appointment in Mobile, Ala., and bought a round-trip ticket for air travel. He got back to New Orleans, but here's how.

On reaching Mobile the field had closed in—remember our recent weather—so the flight went on to Pensacola, from which point the airline offered the traveler bus transportation back to Mobile. Having missed his appointment he preferred to return to N. O., and on the next flight headed for the city. By now New Orleans had closed in and he ended up in Houston, returning to home base by air the next afternoon.

As we figure it, he traveled close to 1000 miles in almost two days and never made his business appointment some 170 miles away. Yep! With time to spare, go by air.

Hooray for the Hawks of Hancock North Central. (Perhaps we should say Necaises.) Anyhow, they're the champs of the southern district, and maybe Saturday night they'll be state champions. We hope so, but anyhow they've showed the drive and spirit of champions.

This editor is tired of national this-and-the-other weeks, and suspects the Echo's readers are also. However, next week is, we think, a little of an exception. It is the "National" week set aside for the Girl Scouts and the 4-H Clubs. Fine organizations you, we and everybody should support. Still want a couple of This Is Nobody's Weeks.

Congressional Sidelights

By Rep. WILLIAM M. COLMER

All of us have observed with reverence the passing last month of General Walter Williams, the last surviving member of the armed forces who fought on either side in the War Between the States—almost 100 years ago. As flags were lowered to half-mast all over the United States, many persons paused to reflect on many events.

It was ironical, for example, that the last of that noble group of warriors should pass on at a time when some voices in congress were advocating what would amount to a second reconstruction era, complete with carpet-bag federal voting registrars.

Congress established a National Civil War Centennial Commission to prepare for the observance during the years 1961-1965. The memory of this period of great strife should invoke in all of us reflections on our heritage. It is hoped that the Centennial observance will focus attention on the principles which were laid down by our forefathers and for which General Williams' generation fought. May we then look to the future with our belief in the ideals of sound constitutional government more profoundly avowed than ever before.

The Civil War Centennial Commission has recently published some facts about the war which, although they are matters of record, are not generally known and which we thought you might find interesting.

This was the first war in which:

- Railroads were extensively used for the rapid movement of military supplies and of large bodies of troops from one theatre of operation to another.
- Aerial reconnaissance was first effectively used from anchored balloons in military operations.
- A mail-carried submarine cable was used to provide the first transatlantic communication.
- Medical care of the wounded was systematically organized.
- Photography was used for the first time in military operations.
- Perfumes, dyes and cosmetics were photographed on a battlefield.
- A mechanical machine gun was first used.
- Young men and women were provided with uniforms.
- Women were used in military operations.
- Women were used in military operations.

March 5, 1945—Mr. and Mrs. David Robert Weston have issued invitations to the celebration of their 50th wedding anniversary at their home, Sunshine Cottage, Logansport, on Tuesday, March 6, from 6 to 10 p.m. Mr. Weston is the last of the six Weston brothers and the only one to celebrate this golden wedding.

25 YEARS AGO
March 1, 1935—Repair work estimated to cost more than $10,000 will start on the Bay St. Louis bridge within the next few days, the State Highway Department has notified the Sea Coast Echo. Delay in manufacture of material has prevented repair of the bridge earlier.

Mississippians Vote 1000 to 1

No wonder Mississippians vote to welcome new investment capital in BAWI bond elections to build new factories—often by margins of 1000 to 1!

Building such factories brings new industry and new investment capital to Mississippi. These mean new jobs, new payrolls and increased opportunity all around.

Long-established industries bring a lot of new capital into the state, too. For example, Southern Bell has spent 53 million dollars in the last 3 1/2 years to provide essential service to new industries locating in the state.

To continue attracting new money and industries to Mississippi all invested capital should be allowed to earn a reasonable profit.

A growing Mississippi requires more telephone service. This takes new capital for which investors expect a fair return.

Deaths

Albert T. Monti sr.
Albert Thomas Monti sr., 79, superintendent of Bay St. Louis waterworks for the past 23 years, died at 9:20 p.m. Sunday at his home, 135 St. Charles St., Bay St. Louis. He was the husband of the late Mrs. Victoria Billman Monti.

Survivors include five daughters, Miss Gladys Monti, Mrs. Charles Rhodes, Mrs. Warren Beuhler, all of Bay St. Louis; Mrs. Victor Green Jr., Lakeshore and Mrs. A. G. Favre Jr., Baltimore, Md.; five sons, John J. Monti, Lou Monti, Henry P. Monti sr., Gene Monti and Albert Monti Jr., all of Bay St. Louis; 24 grandchildren and one great grandchild.

Before becoming waterworks superintendent he was in the contract plumbing business. He was a member of Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church.

Funeral services were from Fahey-Whitfield Funeral Home Wednesday at 9:45 a.m. Religious services were at Our Lady of the Gulf at 10 a.m. with interment in Cedar Rest Cemetery.

Active pallbearers were Frank Quintini, J. Cyril Glover, Raoul Teliard, Lloyd Ladner, Warren Carver, Theo Tudary sr., Frank Trapani and Leo Ford. Honorary pallbearers were Felix Roth sr., Mayor John Scalfide, George Hoffman, Andrew Carver, Alden Maufrey, Sheriff Gerald Price sr., Rene Bermond sr. and Joe diBenedetto.

Mrs. E.M. Taylor

Mrs. Edward M. Taylor, 72, mother of Gary E. Taylor of Bay St. Louis, died at 3:30 p.m. Monday at the residence of her son on North Second Street where she had made her home for the past two years. She was a native of Oak Hall, Va.

Services are this afternoon at 2 p.m. at Oak Hall at Downing Methodist Church with burial in Downing Cemetery. A prayer service was conducted Tuesday morning at Fahey-Whitfield Funeral Home by the Rev. A. M. Ellison, pastor of Mala Street Methodist Church, of which she was a member.

Besides her son she is survived by two brothers, Claude Parks, Salisbury, Md., and Charles Parks, New York; a sister, Mrs. Daisy Marshall, Oak Hall; and five grandchildren.

Solomon Gilbert

Solomon Gilbert, 92, father of Mrs. Walter Favre of Bay St. Louis, died Sunday in New Orleans where he was a lifelong resident. Funeral services took place Wednesday morning with burial in Greenwood Cemetery there.

Husband of the late Mrs. Mary Moss Gilbert, he is survived by a son, Joseph H. Gilbert; three daughters, Mrs. P. J. McClenahan, Mrs. C. E. Givens and Mrs. Favre; four brothers, Dave and Jacob Gilbert, Marx and Mose Guggenheim; a sister, Mrs. Jettie Taylor; 13 grandchildren and 22 great-grandchildren.

Lee Saucier

Lee Saucier, 62, a native of Delisle and resident of Bay St. Louis, died at 3:25 p.m. Monday at the Biloxi Veterans Administration Hospital.

A veteran of World War I, he is survived by his wife, Mrs. Kate Saucier of Bay St. Louis. Burial will be in the Delisle cemetery although final funeral arrangements have not been made.

Mrs. A.J. Clements

Mrs. Phyllis Scalfidi of North Second St., Bay St. Louis, received word here by cable that her mother, Mrs. A. J. Clements, died Feb. 26 after suffering a heart attack in London, England. No further details have reached Bay St. Louis. Mrs. Clements was a resident of London.

Mrs. Chadwick Notes Birthday

Mrs. Clarence Herbert Chadwick, 113 Union St., celebrated her birthday Feb. 22 with a small dinner at a Gulf Coast hotel with friends and members of her family.

Having taken New Orleans for her second home, Mrs. Chadwick, who was born in Bay St. Louis, has been in the city for many years. She is the widow of the late Mr. Chadwick, who was a prominent businessman in the city.

Former Echo Publisher Writes Book

Of wide interest in these parts is the publication this week of a book, "The Longs of Louisiana," written by Stan Opatowsky, who owned and edited the Sea Coast Echo in the early 1950s.

His first book, it is a lively and absorbing account of one of America's most remarkable families. Within the time span of a single generation, they fashioned a political dynasty that, despite its various ups and downs, was as durable and long-lived as any in American politics since the Adamses.

Opatowsky, born in New Orleans, became a reporter in the sports department of the Times-Picayune at the age of 15 when he still attended high school and lived a stone's throw from Huey Long's Audubon Boulevard home. After a tour as Marine Corps combat correspondent during World War II, he joined the Echo for two years with his brother, Mel, before selling it to join the New York Post for which he has covered many of the top news stories of recent years, including the Poplarville lynching.

Married to a former UP correspondent, Martha Cable of Greer, S. C., who also was Echo women's editor, they have two children, Scout Peter, 6, and Anne, not yet one, both born in New York.

E. P. Dumco Co. is publisher of the volume.

Parade

went to Wop Glover of Bay St. Louis and Metairie, La. Patsy Balthus won the individual rider under 12 years which was given by Miss Betty Younger of the Lazy Y Stables. Receiving ribbons in this category were Pat Miller and Jimmy Johnston.

The Riding Club trophy went to the Rebel Riders of the Lazy Y Stable while the Hancock County Riding Club copped the Tallac trophy.

Little Leslie Ann Straughan, nine month old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Straughan of New Orleans and granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Bernucci of Bay St. Louis, dressed as a Southern belle to take first prize in the children's costume contest.

Second place went to Cindy, 3, and Jeffrey Colson, 5, children of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Colson, masked as an Indian brave and squaw while Michael Reinken, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Reinken, dressed in beanie fashion, received the third place award.

First place in the adult division went to Leroy Luke, a Chinese cooley, who was accompanied by his daughter, Prima Lee 3.

Entertainment for the parade's royal couple and their court was given by baton twirlers and students of the Russell Dance Studio.

A winter float entered by St. Rose de Lima Convent copped first place honors in the St. Rose de Lima Parent-Teacher's Association Carnival parade.

Floats representing other sons and following the Four Seasons theme of the parade were Summer, entered by Valena C. Jones to win second place, and Spring, which won third place and was entered by the P-TA of St. Rose de Lima.

Also in the parade were decorated automobiles, bicycles and maskers. A dance and masquerade party in the school's gymnasium climaxed the parade. "Float" judges were Maurice Singleton, Roman Pienas and Father Francis Salgo of St. Augustine Seminary.

Meanwhile, Bay St. Louis Chief of Police Alcine Saucier expressed his appreciation to members of his force, Beat 5 Constable Arding, Garcia, and Highway Patrolman William Kenly for their good work and cooperation in making the Carnival parade of both whites and Negroes a successful one. Police Sgt. Jack Ladner and Raoul Teliard.

The Hancock County Board of Supervisors will choose a chairman and secretary and members of the Finance Committee. The board will meet at 2 p.m. Tuesday at the Hancock County Courthouse in Bay St. Louis. The board will be composed of the following members: Chairman, J. J. Varyan; Secretary, J. J. Varyan; Finance Committee, J. J. Varyan; and other members.

Minus 63,000 Gallons Kids' Play is Costly

Children's play cost the town of Waveland's water department about $12.55 in December.

Town Council, meeting last night, voted to adjust the reading to that of the previous month on a water meter co-owned by W. J. Pepperman and George Donegan, New Orleansians who have summer homes on Sandy Street, after it appeared that some neighborhood youngsters had turned on the outside yard faucet and wasted 63,000 gallons sometime during the month. The December bill was $14.90, November's was $2.35.

Supervisors Hold Tractor Bids to Study

Two bids were opened for purchase of a Diesel tractor, rotary cutter and rear blade at a recessed meeting of the board of supervisors Monday. Action was deferred until the March 7 session because of the absence of beat 5 supervisor R. G. Hubbard and to give members a chance to get further information on the equipment.

Sanders Tractor Co. of Gulfport was low bidder at $3,375 for a 1960 model Ford Diesel tractor. Gelpi Tractor Co. of Piquette offered a Ford tractor, Model 881, for $3,785.

Mrs. Frank A. Kiefer told supervisors the back cover of the Mississippi Monitor had been reserved for Hancock County if the board wished to advertise in the 1960 issue, pointing out that this space had been bought in the 1959 issue. Mrs. Kiefer agreed to set up a new ad and the board voted unanimously to approve purchase of the space.

Waveland Mayor Garfield Ladner invited the board to attend a meeting in Waveland Saturday night to formulate plans for a beach beautification campaign but members said they had been plans to attend the state basketball play-offs in Decatur in which Hancock County's North Central school is a favored entrant, having won the southern championship. Later Mayor Ladner announced that the meeting was postponed to Monday night so the board could attend.

County Engineer C. L. Mobley presented a plan to add the Texas Flat Road to the state aid program pointing out that they had state approval of 89.8 miles but because the county had improved some 11.5 miles of roadway, thereby bringing the total down to 78.3, inclusion of the Texas Flat Road would bring the total to 89.8 miles. Action was postponed until the March meeting.

After hearing testimony, Mrs. Frankie Smith was declared a pauper and entitled to receive aid as such.

Action on all other bids was deferred until Monday.

Bill Watts Wins PRJC Scholarship

Bill Watts, Bay High senior and son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Watts Jr., was one of six high school seniors awarded scholarships to Pearl River Junior College on the basis of high achievement test scoring.

The scholarships are given by Sidney Tonner of Poplarville, Dean R. L. Johnson said, reporting that over 500 students visited the campus today during High School Day activities.

Other winners were James L. McCarter, Lumberton; Ledon Lampton, Columbia; Janice Spikes, Bassfield; Doris Lefton, Oak Grove; and Dorothy Day, Huh High School.

not to interfere with Mardi Gras plans. Family and friends have been invited to an open house beginning at 2 p.m., and are asked to donate pennies equal to the age of each caller to be turned over to the Heart Fund.

At the time of the fire, Mrs. Courge was at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Easter White, and at press time had not been told of the fire. Burned is her bed which had belonged to her mother and has been in the family for more than a century. Also gone is a treasured picture of another son, Bertrand, who died during World War I. All other furnishings were destroyed and Mrs. White said her mother and brother would stay with her for the present.

had turned on the outside yard faucet and wasted 63,000 gallons sometime during the month. The December bill was $14.90, November's was $2.35.

Office hours for Marshal and Tax Collector Fred Bourgeois were reinstated from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. daily since the tax paying rush is over. He also was authorized to purchase a $1.50 rotary flashing light for his automobile.

Two half page advertisements were approved: one for $147.50 in the upcoming Mississippi Coast Monitor and the other for $55 in the American Legion 40 and 8 Southland Dixie Promenade. Council authorized purchase of a $15 air compressor motor and spray gun from M. J. Ruppel for the water department.

A petition was received asking for a light on Fink Street. Building permits authorized were: McDonald Realty Co., dwelling on Nicholson Avenue, $17,000; Charles Gallassero, dwelling on Pine Ridge Park subdivision, $2,000; R. M. Mackey, dwelling in Holiday Hills subdivision, $1,500; Maurice P. Mercader sr., addition to dwelling, Cammerette subdivision, $1,000, and Mrs. Marie Eichhorn, erect carport in Waveland Terrace subdivision, $250.

Coastal area. There were many problems in preparing the excavation for the huge foundation slab. First test borings were made to determine if a proper sand strata existed as a basis for the basement slab. A favorable strata of 60 feet of dense white sand was found which would support the required 5,000 pounds per square foot of building weight. In order to dig an excavation bordered by buildings on two sides, an alley and a street on the other sides, it was necessary to drive 20-foot steel pilings to prevent ground adjacent to the excavation from falling in. The size of the excavation was 50 x 75 and 13 1/2 feet deep. These pilings though they have no structural value to the building were used as exterior forms for the concrete basement walls.

The ground was broken by Seal last April 16; the architect was W. T. Guild, Jr.; the contractor was J. C. McClendon. Hancock Bank was established in 1899 in Bay St. Louis, with a capitalization of $10,000 and deposits the day it opened of $8,337.41.

In all 60 years of existence it has had only four presidents. Bay St. Louis born Leo W. Seal sr. has been president for the last 27 years.

With seafood as his lifelong avocation, the new business head is now realizing a longtime ambition, and Hancock County seems destined to again have a seafood packing plant along with its two Mississippi colleagues.

Detailed plans for the business' operation are not yet available beyond the fact that it will be in operation in a "few" months. Kiestachman not being yet able to say how many persons would be employed.

Garner Gets Census Post

Thomas J. Garner of 1380 N. Beach Blvd. has been appointed Hancock County Crew Leader for the 1960 population census, according to information received this week from the Bureau of Census of the U. S. Department of Commerce.

Enumerators will begin work here about April 1, Garner says. Recently retired from Southern Railway System after nearly 50 years of service, he served as freight traffic manager and had supervision over Louisiana, Mississippi and part of Texas. He is a member of International House, the Traffic Club, Kivans, Army and Navy Club and Masonic Lodge No. 102 in New Orleans and the Bay St. Louis Rotary Club of which he is program chairman. He is a former vestryman for Christ Episcopal Church.

Episcopal Plans Set For Lent

Special evening services and a Lenten study course are included in Christ Episcopal Church's observance of the Lenten season.

Visiting rectors will speak at a series of Thursday night services during Lent. Scheduled for 7:45 p.m., they are a tradition of the local church.

The guest clergy includes the Rev. Vincent C. Franks, retired rector of St. Andrew's, Jackson, tonight; the Rev. Charles T. Chambers, St. George's, Clarksdale, March 17; the Rev. John M. Allen, All Saints' College, Vicksburg, March 24; the Rev. Fred J. Bush, St. James, Jackson, March 31; and the Rev. Durrie B. Hardin, Trinity, Pass Christian, April 7.

Weekday services of holy communion during Lent will be at 7:15 a.m. Monday, Tuesday and Friday and at 10 a.m. Wednesday and Saturday.

Holy communion will be offered as usual at the 7:30 a.m. service each Sunday during Lent and at 10 a.m. on the first and fifth Sundays in Lent, March 6 and April 3.

Mrs. Verna Austin will conduct the Lenten study course from 9 to 9:50 a.m. for five consecutive Wednesdays beginning March 9 in the Parish House.

Evangalistic Campaign Set By Methodists

The Methodist Churches of the Seashore District are in the midst of a joint evangalistic campaign, The Total Enlistment Mission, which will continue through Easter Sunday, April 17th. Each church will have a week of evangalistic services, either April 3-8, or April 10-15.

Lay Speakers are being widely used so that every church, down to the very smallest, will have a service each Sunday during the Mission.

A vital part of the program includes the covenant most church members have made to attend church regularly during the Enlistment Mission. Many churches are also having family group meetings each Wednesday night in the homes of their members.

Emphasis is being placed on Day of Dedication, March 6, greater church attendance March 13, through April 17, and Personal Evangelism.

Mission Plans Set at Our Lady

The two week Mission of Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church will begin Sunday when Missionaries Father Peter Mechesky, O. F. M., and Father Nathaniel Mechesky, O. F. M., will speak at all masses, according to the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Martin Moloney, pastor.

Mission Mass schedules will be announced Sunday for the next two weeks. The week of March 7 is set for all ladies of the parish including high school girls and the week of March 14 is set for all men of the parish including high school boys.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Laughlin of Claridon, Pa., were guests last week of Mrs. Marion Oestad while enroute to St. Petersburg, Fla.

Mr. and Mrs. Julian Lorenzen were guests of friends and relatives in New Orleans this week during the Mardi Gras activities.

Terminal Command is an amphibious unit, therefore, requiring a location on the water for its exercises. Dantagan and Alden Maufrey witnessed its maneuvers last summer when they were conducted at Ship Island.

Through the offices of the chamber, letters assuring cooperation already have been addressed to the staff of the 377th by the board of supervisors, Commission Council of Bay St. Louis, Rotary Club and several churches.

In a letter to the chamber president, Colonel Armiger wrote that as a result of the preliminary inspection of the area "it is felt that we will probably hold our annual unit training . . . in that area."

When he comes Saturday, he hopes to bring with him Mayor deLesseps S. Morrison of New Orleans, commanding general of the 377th, in addition to the staff members who were here before.

Mrs. Garner is the former Miss Holland Pitts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Pitts of Alabama, her father being at one time assistant U. S. attorney general.

Simmons Takes Harrison Post

Howard F. Simmons, whose 12-year term as county agent for Hancock County ended Feb. 29, assumed his new duties Tuesday as associate county agent in Harrison County. He will continue to reside here for a few months, probably until the end of the school term, before moving to Gulfport.

Simmons said he is leaving a good county and a lot of good people; that he thinks Hancock County has a great future with its location and potential.

"I have made a lot of friends here during the past 12 years," he said, "and want to thank all of them as well as county and other officials for their cooperation."

Sellier; Mrs. Charles A. Thomas; Miss Maria Elena Vassalli - Jake Cusimano; and Miss Harriet Marie Ward and David D. Clifton.

Miss Barbara Shippey and Miss Brenda Troxclair in white bouffant gowns served as ladies in waiting to the queen.

The climax came when the queen was escorted into the ball room by the general chairman, Dan M. Russell Jr. Her gown of gold spangled net over lame was accented with glittering mantle, jewel studded gold crown and golden sceptre. Her train, carried by her nieces, Kathleen and Sally Stieffel, dressed in white ballerina outfits, was of red and gold and white sequins.

Entertainment for the King and Queen was given by Fred Holder, a Siamese fire dancer who performed with fire in each hand.

Following the grand march, the court enjoyed the first two dances. With the dimming of the gymnasium lights and three sounds of a resounding gong, the carnival ball began. Miss Gaynell Lagasse narrated a synopsis of the theme, and the King of Siam, portrayed by Brent Seward appeared. Then Anna, Wynn Heath, in a lavender period costume and her son, Louis, Timothy Ryan, the king's wives, Melva Luke and Marilyn Piazza and in turn the children of the King knelt before him.

The children's costumes were in greens and golds, sequined and topped with small gold head-dresses. The first musical number was "Getting to Know You." Children participating were: Faye Ann di Benedetto, Cynthia Dedaux, Jean Delaney, Pat Depree, Max Gianelloni III, Germaine Glani, Sharon Griffin, Marsha Griffin, Brian Heitzmann, Connie Kemery, Pat Lafontaine, Mary Tom Ladner, Cornell Ladner, Jules A. Lagarde II, Amy Lynch, Jo Ann Marselloni, Vicky McCaleb, Jonathan Merritt, Noel Reinko, Reuben Ruiz, Kathy Saux, Debra Scianna, Charles Scianna and Colette Zimmerrann.

The next number, a Siamese Shi Motou dance given by Judy Copponex, who did the choreography for all of the dances, and Patty Babin.

Temple Dancers were: Angele Camors, Anita Glani, Susan French, Kathy Heath, Peggy Lamb, Carmen Lacunza, Louise Bufkin, Sylvia Murphy, Betty Noto, Ellen Plunkett, Denis Senezeau, Diane Taylor and Melanie Vassalli. The gold and white satin costumes were breathtaking, topped by towering gold head-dresses.

The set design was staged by Mrs. Virgil Glani who was presented with a silver chain and medallion, and Mrs. James De-Blanc, president of the S. J. A. Parent's Club to whom goes credit for much of the success of the ball, was given a corsage.

Mrs. Victor F. Fouert was directress of the court.

Bad Results of Field Burning Are Listed by Area Forester

Field burning is an expensive practice, according to Area Forester Marion Hatcher, who says that burning of the crop land and other areas causes the loss of the timber stand.

Field fires limit crop yields. Research has shown that soils need decayed plant residues (organic matter) to be fully productive. Dr. William L. Giles, director of the Delta Experiment Station at Stoneville, states that field fires destroy valuable organic matter which we can not afford to lose.

Fertilizers applied to soils lacking in organic matter are rapidly leached out of the soil by the rainfall. How much of your fertilizer never reaches the crops you are trying to grow, simply because your soil is lacking in organic matter? Would it be so much better to work the plant residues into the soil, thereby adding to its productivity?

Besides improving the soil, this practice protects the adjoining timber from being damaged or seriously damaged by fire. Since timber and timber processing bring in one-fourth of the total income of all people in Mississippi, the woods are well worth protecting.

Today, farmers and other small owners own about two-thirds of the timber land in Mississippi. These lands are producing only a fraction of their potential. The first step in increasing their productivity is to keep wild fires out.

For full information on your forestry problems, contact, Marion Hatcher.

Hancock Keeps Good Bond Pace

Hancock County continues to remain in the top bracket in sales of U. S. savings bonds, according to January figures released by Andy J. Becker, county chairman.

The county has achieved 13.72 per cent of its goal, the state 11.02 and the national percentage is 9.14. January sales were $9,605. Goal is $70,000.

Town, Country Club Reelects Mrs. Glossinger

Mrs. M. W. Glossinger, president of the Town and Country Garden Club, will lead the club again during the coming year after her election as president at the Feb. 23 meeting.

Additional officers nominated by the nominating committee and accepted by the club members were Mrs. Joe Daly, vice president; Mrs. S. K. Kepner, secretary; and Mrs. A. J. Butz, treasurer.

D. A. McCandless, Gulfport camellia grower and guest speaker at the meeting, told how to care and improve camellia varieties, illustrating his talk with many of his own camellias.

The lawn of Mrs. Robert Teague on Sandy Street was named as the club's Garden of the Month by Mrs. Kepner, awards chairman, with the Joseph Teague lawn as runner-up.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Kepner, hostess, and Mrs. A. J. Chappard received the attendance prize.

4-H Club Week Set March 5

About 1,000 young people in Hancock County will join in observing National 4-H Club week from March 5-12. The local youth, 10 to 21 years of age, are among the 2 1/4 million 4-H'ers of America who belong to some 93,000 clubs in rural, urban and suburban communities.

Among the special 4-H activities planned for this vicinity are meetings in each club, putting up county 4-H welcome signs, window displays and distribution of 4-H posters.

Nationally, 4-H Club Week will be highlighted in Washington, D. C., by six previously selected members who will present the annual 4-H report to the Nation.

4-H'ers everywhere will share honors with the 290,000 adult volunteer leaders who guide 4-H work in local communities throughout the 50 states and Puerto Rico. The main purposes of 4-H Club Week are to acquaint more young people with opportunities available to them through joining or forming 4-H Clubs, to assist new members in starting projects in farming, homemaking, community service and other activities; and to inform the public about 4-H aims and methods.

The Hancock County 4-H Clubs are under the supervision of Mrs. Marcia P. Hughes, home demonstration agent, and John W. Smith, assistant county agent.

Marine Corps Recruiter Sets New Visit Time

Marine M. Sgt. Bill Howies, Gulf Coast recruiter, has announced a change in his day and time of visit to Bay St. Louis. Effective March 1, Sgt. Howies will be at the Courthouse from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on the first and third Thursday of each month.

The 12-year Marine veteran urged all men of enlistment age (17-28) to meet with him during one of his visits and learn about life as a U. S. MARINE.

Sgt. Howies said he is equally anxious to talk with parents of high school seniors who have an eye on service life after graduation this spring. He invited any interested parent to contact him now at HO 7-5781 to arrange a meeting time for him to explain the physical, mental and spiritual benefits of Marine Corps life.

Applications Taken For Postal Clerk

A position as substitute clerk in the Bay St. Louis Postoffice is open, according to Andy J. Becker, postmaster.

Applicants, except those entitled to veterans preference, must have reached their eighteenth birthday.

Buffet is Saturday

The ladies auxiliary of Bay-Waveland Yacht Club will have its monthly buffet supper Saturday, serving from 6 to 9 p.m. at the club, Mrs. Carlos Lozano, president, has announced.

Shoulda Gone Fishin'

BY EDDIE ENGELHORN

About the only good day for fishing last week was Sunday but heavy rain and wind have played havoc with the water. Little luck was reported by the few who went after fresh water fish and only small catches of sheepshead were reported by salt water anglers.

Elliott Casanova and Oscar Breland tried Pearl River Sunday with little luck, saying the water was bad but managed to pick up a few trout. Elliott says it won't be long before catfish time and is already drooling.

Another party headed by Leroy Luke started out Sunday but found out her interests and failed to reach the fishing grounds. "Just as well," said Leroy.

John Green and Ernest Marquer were spotted with their perch poles Saturday but no perch.

New addition to local angling ranks is Ferdinand Koenig of Cuero, Tex., which is near Corpus Christi. He is employed by the Tennessee Gas Co. and recently settled in Waveland with his family on Farrar Lane. Ferd is an experienced salt water fisherman having fished along the Texas Coast most of his life and is awaiting delivery of a new boat and rig, preparing for a big season. The Keys will probably be the first speckled trout hot spot this Spring. Ferd. Best catches are made by getting out of the boat, wading in the water and surf casting with plugs against the tide.

Brewster Mollere says he hasn't been out because of the flu but knows where to get them. Caught some nice green trout a few weeks ago around Clermont Harbor.

Now that the ball is over and the fast is on maybe some of the old regulars will return to the serious business of fishing. Meantime, looking forward to next year, if anyone is interested in the date of Mardi Gras all you have to do is count back 47 days from the Sunday after the first full moon following the vernal or spring equinox which ordinarily falls on or about March 21. Or you can make a note that it falls on Valentine's day Feb. 14.

AND STAY OUT — Referee Jack Walton warns Pelahatchie's ace Will Wade about the gun on North Central's free throws.

State Title Today

Hawks Cop South Title Tension-Packed Finale

Bay County's North Central basketball squad was crowned champion of south Mississippi tonight after fighting its way to the floor to crush fast, big Pelahatchie 85-75, a one-point defeat early in the game.

In the finals of the B-BB boys tournament, the Hawks will tackle the Decatur as they compete for the state championship. The other District Eight favorite, will vie with In-garman.

An estimated 2,000 wildly cheering spectators witnessed the event, taking advantage of every available inch of space from the floor of the gym to the rafters. On one occasion play had to be halted to clear some of the crowd from the front of the scoreboard so the scorekeeper could check the score.

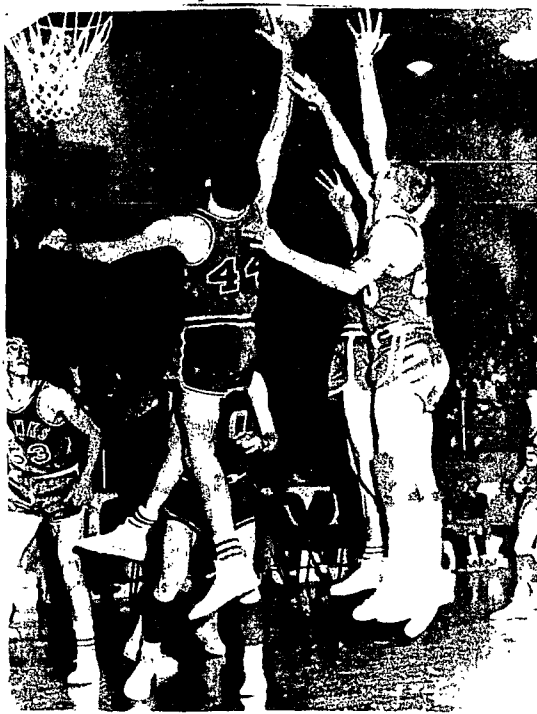

Tension mounted in the third quarter as the Hawks fought desperately to overcome an eight-point lead piled up by Pelahatchie in the first half. Good officiating and the calm voice of Bay High Superintendent J. D. McCullough is credited with keeping the crowd's temper in check. The game had to be stopped on four occasions and once a technical foul was called against North Central because of their supporters' booing. At other times McCullough reminded the crowd that it was a sporting event and pleaded for clean, sportsmanlike behavior. Although tempers flared, there was no violence.

In the opening seconds of play, Pelahatchie served notice they were out to win when they speeded down court to rack up the first two points of the game and managed to stay ahead throughout the first half. North Central's ace scorers had trouble finding the hoop and missed shots time and again that they ordinarily sink with no trouble. Their passing attack was also off in the first half and Pelahatchie grabbed the advantage, stealing the ball and dribbling for a lay-up.

After intermission, coach James Johnson's squad regained their form and played like a different team. Sparked by Douglas Necaise, the Hawks bewildered the Pelahatchie lads with their powerful, dazzling play to take the third period by a whopping 11 points.

Trailing at halftime 49-41, the Hawks worked up to a 48-50 score when the referee called a foul against Pelahatchie. A Hawk sunk the free throw to get within one point of the leaders and on the next play Pelahatchie missed the net. Berlin got the rebound, dribbled down court and flipped to Barney who scored to put his team ahead 51-50. The Hawks were hot and were never headed for the remainder of the evening, taking the second half 44-26.

During the hectic third period Pelahatchie coach Howard Sessums ran on the floor on several occasions to dispute officials' rulings, finally walking to the scorekeepers' and Superintendent McCullough's box voicing his protest with angry gestulations. Two of Pelahatchie's aces, Will Wade and Paul McMullan fouled out in the final quarter after being warned by referee Jack Walton of Hattiesburg on several occasions for jumping the gun on free throws.

Douglas Necaise was top scorer for the Hawks with a mammoth 36 points, only two of which were free throws. Barney got 16, John 13 although fouling out, Wayne 13. For Pelahatchie it was Graham Taylor with 26, Sam Rhodes 16, Will Wade 15 and James Massey 11.

Score by quarters:
N. Central 20 21 17 27 - 85
Pelahatchie 27 22 6 20 - 75
In the consolation game Saturday Improve trounced Osyka 100-83. Other scores were Wednesday: North Central 55, Burns 29; Improve 83, Sand Hill 68; Thursday: Osyka 57, Raymond 55;
